Now after the conferment of the degrees, this would be the exhortation; I would give you on this occasion, in conformity with the words of our ancient wise men.

“Speak the truth, Practice virtue. Neglect not the study of the scriptures and the books of wisdom. Dedicate the desired objects to the preceptor. Do not cut off from the progeny. Do not deviate from the path of truth. Do not abandon the path of truth. Do not abandon the path of virtue. Do not neglect what is beneficial to the society. Do not ignore the way to prosperity. Do not be indifferent to learning and teaching. Do not be indifferent to the duties due to the Gods and the Fathers.

Let your mother be God unto you. Let your father be God unto you. Let your teacher be God unto you.

Let your guest be God unto you.

Let your Nation be God unto you.

You should practice irreproachable behaviour and none other. You should practice good deeds of your preceptors and teachers and none other.

Practice reverence and humility for the learned and the wise. Do donate for fellowship and universal causes. But donate with grace and not with pride. You should give plenty with modesty and sympathy.

Should there arise in your mind doubts about any act or conduct, you should follow what the learned and the wise, who have sound judgement, who are active but detached, virtuous but not greedy and not harsh in words do under similar circumstances.

While dealing with unfounded allegation against others, you should seek advice of the learned and the wise who have sound judgment, who are active but detached, virtuous but not greedy and not harsh in words.

This is the commandment. This is the teaching. This is the true purport of the ancient treatise of knowledge. This is the exhortation. Thus should you observe. Thus indeed this should be observed.

Dear Graduates, bear this deeply in your mind and conduct yourself with grace and character."
